

Trading company wins award again

Growing better business profits doesn't have to be expensive and the Barter Network proves it.

The company makes its large network of advertising and marketing opportunities available to all of the businesses who join.

Business who join the network can expect to see improvements. Clients that have joined the Barter Network have seen an average increase of $50,000 in revenue and best of all, it doesn't cost anything to join.

The Barter Network uses its own unique type of currency that members can use to trade for services, as well the network aides clients in finding service providers that cater directly to the company's unique needs. They provide all of the information the client needs to make the most of the Barter Network's services.

Patti Falus, president of Barter Network Ltd. accepts the Consumer Choice Award for Best Barter Services from Jack McFadden.

The Barter Network operates on a foundation built on their customers' trust. They are continually striving for excellence and to produce the best results possible for their clients. It is because of their efforts that Barter Network Ltd. has been awarded the Consumer Choice Award for Best Barter Services in Ottawa for the twelfth consecutive year.

"We're very proud to win this award yet again this year," said Patti Falus, president of Barter Network Ltd. "It's a true measure of Canadian business."

For more information on the Barter Network or to join the club, please call 1-866-DO-BARTER or visit www.barternetwork.ca today.